Consider Contributing For A Great Cause

By Dave Theophilus from Steve Benke

ANY SOLDIER

At the January meeting we will be having a guest do a program for us. Sherry Greenway from Any Soldier will be there. There was an article in the Tribune on Dec 10th explaining what she does and who she does it for. She has already sent 550 gifts to The 19th Engineer Battalion of the U.S. Army in Afghanistan. I thought this would be a good opportunity for us to do something good for the men and women serving overseas and

Dave's Time

I hope that everybody enjoyed the Christmas and New Year's holidays even if you were forced to adjust travel plans due to all the snow and cold. Talk about an old fashioned winter! We still have plenty of winter and possible snowmelt flooding to get through before spring, but the Storm Spotter Training has already been scheduled. It is set for March 24 at 7 PM at Christensen Field in Fremont. It is also PARC's turn to co-sponsor the training with Region 5/6 Emergency Management. You will hear more about this annual event, as we get closer to March.

If you are looking for a contest you might try the ARRL VHF Sweepstakes on January 23-25. Historically I don't think there has been a lot of activity in our area in this contest, but give a listen and maybe you will be surprised. Check KC9BQA's VHF blog at: <http://kc9bqa.com/> for more details. That is where I also learned that the popular DX Sherlock real-time propagation maps can now be found at a slightly different address of: <http://www.vhfdx.info/index.html>

For the upcoming PARC meeting on Friday, January 22, Steve, KF1ØMS has lined up an excellent program that will also give us an opportunity to help some well-deserving people. Look for more on that in this issue and also in an email that I will send out.

See you at the PARC meeting on Friday!

maybe get a little publicity for ham radio at the same time. I have contacted Deb Jacobson, who did an article sometime back, about ham radio for the Tribune. Maybe she and Steve KFØMS will be there to do something for the Tribune. I am not going to tell Sherry what we are going to do. I thought it would be good for each of us to bring something for her to send. If we hide it till she does her program and then each get up and put something in the box, I was hoping it would be a pleasant surprise for her. We do have to be careful of what we send. Here is a list of things that are recommended.

- Skin lotions
- Travel/overnight bags W/shampoos
- Pony tail holders (black or brown)
- Manicure/pedicure sets
- Brush sets
- Board and computer games
- Socks W/ no logo on them

Woman seeks help with troop donations

*By Tammy Real-McKeighan/Fremont Tribune
Thursday, Dec 10, 2009 - 10:22:30 am CST*

Sherry Greenway has a heart for soldiers.

And she's been pouring her heart in to an organization to help them for more than three years. That program is called Any Soldier Inc.

Formerly of Texas and Kansas, Greenway has sent gifts to military personnel overseas for some time.

Now, the Fremont woman hopes the community will work with her to send gifts to 550 soldiers in the 19th Engineer Battalion of the U.S. Army in Afghanistan. While it's too late to send Christmas gifts, Greenway has selected a birthday theme and hopes area residents will donate presents by Jan. 15 so she can mail them by February.

Donated items could include a host of things from socks ("They go through a pair of socks very fast," she said) and gloves to a variety of music CDs and comedy DVD movies.

Greenway invites area residents to browse the Web site www.anysoldier.com to see what items can and cannot be sent.

No pornography can be sent. Neither can any religious books unless such a book is specifically requested by one of the soldiers, she said. Donors also cannot send any item pertaining to pork. Even a picture of a pig is an insult to the people in Afghanistan, she said.

Greenway added that 150 of the soldiers in the battalion are women. While they can't have candles, lotions are permitted.

She also suggests that donors attach a birthday card to their gift and write a letter, addressing it to "Dear Warrior" or "Dear Soldier." Many of the soldiers simply want letters of support, she said.

Drop-off points for the gifts are: Jamas Party Shop, 88 W. Sixth St.; Staffco Employment Services, 415 N. Main St.; and KHUB-KFMT radio station, 118 E. Fifth St.; all in Fremont.

Any Soldier was started by Marty and Sue Horn after their son, Sgt. Brian Horn, went to Iraq in 2003.

Knowing that his unit, the 173rd Airborne Brigade, was living under very rough conditions, the couple sent him care packages as often as they could. They wanted to help other soldiers serving with his son, so Marty, himself a 20-year Army veteran, set up the Any Soldier Web site. That site was expanded to include other branches of the service. As of this month, it has served 1.4 million troops.

Greenway, who has a stepson in the military, discovered Any Soldier after her mother learned about it through a television documentary. Greenway said she began reading one of the soldier's blog sites.

"Each one of these soldiers will write a blog about what they need and what they're doing and what they want. I got on there and one of them touched my heart," she said.

She learned the soldier wanted beef jerky and socks.

"I sent it to him and he sent me a thank you. I wrote him a letter and said 'You don't have to thank me. You're protecting me,'" she said.

The two began corresponding.

After that a couple of the soldiers even came to her home for dinner.

She sent Christmas ornaments for the children of a serviceman overseas. She once sent 28 blankets to servicemen in Afghanistan.

Her voice cracks with emotion as she talks about some of the conditions the soldiers deal with -- living in the cold, in the mountains, worrying about bombs and bullets coming at them.

"I listen to what some of these men and women have been through and I can't imagine it," she said. "I gripe because I have to drive six blocks to Walmart and they walk six miles to get running water."

Greenway hopes area residents will join in the effort to support the servicemen and women.

"They are our security. They're out there representing us. They're fighting so I don't have to in my own backyard," she said. "Every American should be able to do something."

Officers Are In For Another Year!

Our officers for 2010 are a repeat of 2009. Dave Theophilus WØNRW will remain as president. Bob Kirchmann WØICE is Vice President. Darlene Hoffman NØLOP is secretary and Sharon Martens KBØTVB remains as Treasurer. Well, why not, I hope we all seem to know what we're doing.

Joe Roberts WAØSTV volunteered for another 3 year stint on the Board of Directors. That moves Larry Martens KØSW and Sandy Cunningham KBØTVA each up a slot.

There are a couple of changes to the committee chairs. The Christmas Party committee will be Sharon Martens and Jane Mehaffey KBØZUN. And Publicity will be taken over by Steve Benke KFØMS because Kiel Eltiste is no longer an active ham. And as you see by our program scheduled for Friday, Steve is active as the Publicity Director already. Way to go, Steve. The remaining committee chairs all stay the same. (See above for full schedule).

Here's hoping we have a good 2010 for all our events. They are always fun.

It's looks like we will be planning for a bigger Weather Spotters Training event for which we are the hosts coming up very quickly.

Does This Kinda Sound Familiar—Like Maybe This Year?

From Art Zyguelbau, KØAIZ, ARRL NE Section Mgr.

Our Section Traffic Manager, Mike, NFØN, sent me an interesting email which quoted from the January 1942 issue of QST. In late October, early November a heavy snow and freeze took out "all communications lines in the eastern part of the State." Here are some extracts from the article:

"Fremont was completely isolated from the outside world for several hours. First communication lines were established by W9OED, Fremont. This was accomplished on 1.75-Mc. Phone. W9OED called "CQ Omaha, Urgent Traffic," was answered by W9OYB, Omaha, who in turn called up W9KVT, Omaha, on the land line and informed him OED was calling him. W9KVT contacted the Associated Press office, and the night news for the Fremont Morning Guide was transmitted by VKT to OED. Immediately following completion of this effort. Immediately following completion of this BNC, Omaha, called OED, Fremont, for traffic west to Grand effort, BNC, Omaha, called OED, Fremont, for traffic west to Grand Island for the A. T. & T. When contact was finally established in round-about way, BNT in the meantime had gotten into Grand Island via Kansas City, Julesburg, Colorado and North Platte.

"The following morning, lines still being out of order, OED scheduled BNC for United Press news for the Fremont Daily Tribune. The October 31st news was handled at OED's with the assistance of RCH and his XYL who copied the press in shorthand. Saturday morning on the BNC schedule, the local newspapers furnished a stenographer and the press transmissions were handled without a hitch.

"The Pioneer Radio Club of Nebraska are now all building 56- and 112-Mc. Equipment, so that if and when another call comes for amateur radio assistance, they will be more than ready to fill the bill." It's been nearly 70 years since that event. We're still needed.
